- Sister Stewart + Coleman: disagree. w/ Butmore - when Coleman + Stewart went to Butmore it was found that pay due Sister Coleman had all been there, in 2 envelopes, but Sister Coleman, in her haste, had only picked up one. Not accepting the explanation in good faith grace, in fact not waiting for an explanation, she conducted herself in a very offensive + insulting manner before customers, + finally left in a huff, not even bothering to pick up the rest of the $. This sort of conduct casts very unfavourable reflections on the whole union, and is much to be regretted.

note. The actions of Sister Hilda Coleman + several other sisters, in walking off the floor during the busy hours is severely frowned upon, as being unbecoming + very inconsiderate of a union member. Such an action does not put the management out as much, as it puts a hardship on girls remaining on the floor. A union member must bear in mind, that differences must be settled in an ethical manner, and the welfare of fellow workers
